We have mainly manufactured brake, clutch cylinders and intake, exhaust valves over 70 years. In order for us to hand down our technology, we have started to supply restoration parts in domestic market since 2019.

In recent years, the number of Japanese classic car enthusiasts have been increasing in the U.S and many classic cars travelled from Japan, therefore, we believe that there is a need for Japanese restoration parts there.

Our object is to supply the restoration parts in the U.S thus we have decided to sponsor of the JCCS.

JCCS is a classic car show limited to Japanese cars. First held in 2005, this year will be the 16th time. 400 cars gathering from all over the U.S every year and many Japanese classic car enthusiasts visit this event. There will be a limited sales of our discontinued parts through local distributor this year. Classic car enthusiasts wish to continue drive their car so we we'd like to continue supply restoration parts to make their wishes come true.
